

Dear Colleague,

It is my pleasure to invite all the great scientists' academic people, researchers, industrialists from all over the globe to attend the International Conference on Surgery to be held on April 15-17, 2019 at Valencia, Spain. Widely known as Surgery- 2019.

The Surgery-2019 conference interrelate with members across the world focused on knowledge about surgical and its specialties. The topics of the conference truly reflect the modern trends, recent advances and new techniques in Surgery. Surgery-2019 offers a genuine opportunity for Young scientists starting their research activity in the surgery field across the world to present and recognise their achievements.

Your participation will make the Conference Success on current trends in Surgery. Surgery-2019 and wonderful scientific endeavour and stimulate a creative Exchange of ideas and contacts also between academia and industry.

We welcome you to the esteemed conference and we look forward to meet you at International Conference on Surgery in Valencia, Spain.

Sincerely,

Rafael Martínez Sanz, ME, PhD, EBCTS
Professor on the University of the Canary Islands at La Laguna, Spain